

Sketch

Volume 35, Number 2

1969

Article 31

Art

Eric Sealine*

*Iowa State University

Copyright ©1969 by the authors. Sketch is produced by The Berkeley Electronic Press (bepress).
<http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/sketch>

Formula Won

Jim Healey

Science Journalism, Jr.

BLACK, yellow, red, blue. Crews, goggles, tires, wrenches. ". . . probably'll be running near the lead. I want you to back him up; stay close; try for a good, solid fourth or fifth. . . . Hey, are you listenin'?"

"Yeah, sure; just planning how I'll run the esses."

"Like hell. You're tryin' to figure out how to beat the Lotus-Independent and not get canned by the old man for over-driving. Will you for once think about now instead of tomorrow or next week? You're a damn good driver or you wouldn't be pushin' a Prancin' Horse, but sometimes when you get to plannin' the next lap I wonder if you even know what's happenin' on this lap."

"Look, get off my ass. I drive these Ferraris, and I drive them as good as anybody. Sure I think, but you can't drive without thinking!"

"O.K., o.k., relax, all right? The car's on the grid; you get everything checked out?"

"It's fine."